Dear UWA Family,

Welcome to the first day of what is certain to be one of the most unique semesters in our university's 185-year history. By now you've had a chance to read our Operational Plan for Fall Semester 2020 and have likely viewed the summary video scripted and produced to accompany the comprehensive plan's release.

Until a vaccine and/or consistently effective treatment is tested and approved, prevention is the only way we will minimize the risks associated with this pandemic. Our diligence and accountability to these simple actions will ultimately influence the success of our semester, and since I can't share this face-to-face on campus, I opted for the next best solution: a condensed video recording that answers the question "What can we do to have a safe, healthy, successful fall semester?"

Take care and be safe,

Ken Tucker, Ph.D.
