- 1) The applicant must be experiencing an economic crisis which threatens the health and safety of a family member such as a child or disabled or elderly adult.
 a medical crisis can be exempt from income reduction*

- 4) For assistance with rent, mortgage and utilities, the applicant must have experienced at least a 50% reduction in income within the last six months. The applicant will be responsible for providing verification of current income and of income prior to the reduction.
- 5) For assistance with past due rent or mortgage, the applicant must have been served with an eviction notice.
- 6) For assistance with metered utilities, the applicant must have been presented with a disconnect notice. For non-metered utilities, verification will be obtained from the supplier that the applicant cannot obtain additional service due to delinquent payment.
- 7) The client will need to have a workable plan for payment of next month's rent, mortgage, utilities, food, etc.
