The mission of Big Brothers Big Sisters is to help children reach their potential through professionally supported, one-on-one relationships with measurable impact.

National research has shown that positive relationships between youth and their Big Brother / Big Sister have a direct and measurable impact on children's lives. Through the relationship formed between them, little brothers and sisters (children and youth with whom the volunteers are working) are:

- More confident in their schoolwork performance

Foster Grandparent Program

(601)482-9880

The Foster Grandparent Program is a program for senior citizens to use their talents to serve as mentors for abused, neglected, and mentally challenged youth and children. Many of the "grandparents" are used in local schools to provide assistance in the classroom. This is the case at T. J. Harris Elementary School where I am doing my field practice.

These ladies come to the school each day and are provided with breakfast and lunch. They do get paid for what they do but it is only a couple of dollars per hour. They have to meet income eligibility before being considered to become a grandparent. They provide a great help in the classroom. T. J. Harris has about 8 foster grandparents including one who works at our off-site pre-kindergarten class.

Not only does the program assist the school, but it also provides a service to the grandparents. Recently in the cafeteria, I noticed one of them sitting at the booth next to where I was sitting. The children were going to put their lunch trays up, and on the way back, a number of them stopped to speak and hug the grandparent. I was very touched by watching this. As I was leaving, I commented to her how sweet the children were. She smiled and said they certainly were. I realized that this helped her by feeling like she was needed. The program is helpful to both the school and the foster grandparents.

Recently our teachers who use the grandparents were asked to write a letter in support of the program. I was saddened to learn that they may have to make cuts in the program or cut the program entirely. Hopefully this will not happen. They provide a much needed service while at the same time making them feel useful to others.

The WIC Program
2119 Highway 19 North
Meridian, MS
(601)693-5507

The WIC program is a special supplemental food program for pregnant, breast-feeding, and post-partum women, infants, and children up to five years of age. The Women, Infants, and Children's Nutrition Program (WIC) helps keep the mother and baby healthy during the first years of the child's life.

To eligible, the woman, infant, or child must meet the income criteria and be at medical or nutritional risk. Those who are anemic, overweight, or who have a poor diet are typical examples of eligibility for the program. Typically a nurse or nutritionist will determine who is eligible to receive assistance from the program. Those who are eligible for TANF, Food Stamps, or Medicaid automatically meet the guidelines and qualify for the program.

Those who are eligible will receive a monthly package of nutritious foods, tips on healthy eating, health care referrals, and breastfeeding support. The food package contains such items as milk, eggs, beans, fruit juices, canned tuna and carrots, hot and cold cereals, infant cereals, baby formula, peanut butter, and cheese.

Habitat For Humanity (601)485-4992

Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit Christian housing ministry. They seek to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness from the world and seek to make decent shelter a matter of conscience and action. Habitat for Humanity provides a way for people of all backgrounds, races, and religions to work together to build houses together and in partnership with families in need.

Volunteer labor and donations are used to build or rehabilitate simple decent houses along with the help of the homeowner (partner family). They are sold to the partner families at no profit and financed with affordable loans. The monthly mortgage payments are then used to build more homes.

The program is not a give-away program. The homeowner is required to work alongside the volunteers to build their home along with helping build homes for others. The cost of the homes vary depending on location. In the United States the average homes cost nearly $60,000.00. In developing countries the cost may be as low as $800.00.

Partner families are selected based on need, willingness to partner in building other homes, and ability to repay the loan. Neither race nor religion is a factor in determining eligibility.

The Salvation Army
120 6th Avenue
601-483-6156

The Salvation Army began in 1865 as an evangelical group dedicated to preaching among the unchurched people living in poverty in London. In 1878, they became known as The Salvation Army. Since that time, they have added additional programs that include disaster relief services, day care centers, summer camps, holiday assistance, services for the aging, AIDS education and residential services, medical facilities, shelters for battered women and children, family and career counseling, vocational training, correction services, and substance abuse services. More than 30 million a year are aided by services from The Salvation Army.

Most of the funding for The Salvation Army comes from the annual kettle collections each year at Christmas. Other funds come from campaigns, direct mail programs, corporate and foundation gifts, planned giving, and government contracts. The Salvation is also a United Way agency with some funding coming from the local United Way. Through funding such as these, The Salvation Army is able to respond to critical community needs.
